

Charles Neumeyer

I moved to San Luis Obispo in 2020 after retirement from the Princeton Plasma Physics Laboratory where I served as Chief Engineer. My 40+ year career in advanced technology engineering and management was focused primarily on the development of nuclear fusion energy. My wife Leslie is an artist who works in a variety of media. My interests include reading, hiking, biking, and swimming. We have a son living in Santa Cruz, CA, another in Aspen, CO, and a daughter living in Seattle, WA.
